

INDEX

1. What is a Resort?.....	2
2. Organizational Chart of the Staff Working at a Resort.....	3-4
3. Filling out a Job Application in English	5
4. Elaborating the Menu of a Restaurant with Foods from Different Parts of the World ...	6
5. Types of Service in Restaurant	7
6. Example Dialogues between the Diner and the Waiter	8
7. The Recipe for a Continental Dish and an American Breakfast.....	9-10
8. A Snack Bar Menu.....	11-12
9. List of Foods and Drinks.....	133
10. Hotel Marketing Strategies.....	144-15

1.-What is a Resort?

- A resort is a type of tourist accommodation that offers a comprehensive vacation experience in one place. Unlike a conventional hotel, a resort is usually located in an attractive natural environment, such as a beach, mountain, or countryside, and offers a wide range of recreational services and facilities. These may include swimming pools, spas, golf courses, tennis courts, water activities, restaurants, bars, shops, and entertainment programs. The main objective of a resort is to provide guests with everything they need to enjoy a relaxing and fun vacation without having to leave the premises. Resorts are often popular with families, couples, and groups of friends looking for an all-inclusive geta

2.-Organizational Chart of the Staff Working at a Resort

- The organizational chart of a resort is a graphical representation of the organizational structure of the staff working at the establishment. This organizational chart may vary depending on the size and type of resort, but generally includes the following departments and key positions:

- General Management: Is the highest responsible for the management and operation of the resort. Supervises all departments and ensures that the objectives of the business are met.

- Accommodation Department: Is responsible for the management of the rooms and the attention to the guests. Includes positions such as:

- Reception: Attends to the guests at check-in and check-out, provides information and solves problems.

- Concierge: Offers assistance services to the guests, such as restaurant reservations, transportation and activities.

- Cleaning: Is responsible for the cleaning and maintenance of the rooms and common areas.

- Food and Beverage Department: Manages the restaurants, bars and catering services of the resort. Includes positions such as:

- Chefs: Responsible for the creation and preparation of the menus.

- Waiters: Attend to customers in restaurants and bars.

- Bartenders: Prepare and serve drinks in bars.

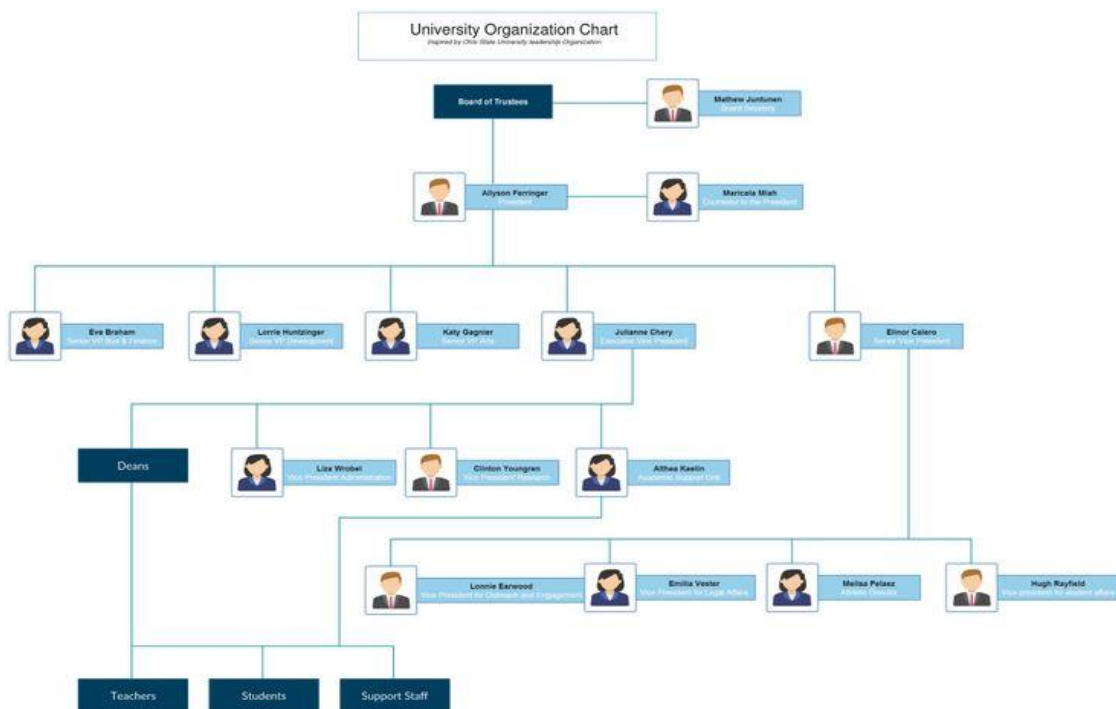

- Recreation Department: Offers entertainment and sports activities to the guests. Includes positions such as:

- Animators: Organize activities and events for the guests.

- Sports instructors: Teach sports classes such as tennis, golf or yoga.

- Spa staff: Offers beauty and relaxation treatments.

- Maintenance Department: Is responsible for the maintenance and repair of the resort facilities.
- Administration and Finance Department: Manages the finances, accounting and human resources of the resort.
- Human Resources Department: Is responsible for the hiring, training and management of the staff.
- Sales and Marketing Department: Promotes the resort and attracts new customers.

3.- Filling out a Job Application in English

- To fill out a job application in English effectively, follow these detailed steps:

1. Download a job application form in English from the internet: Search online for "job application form" or "employment application" templates. Make sure the format is compatible with the type of job you are applying for at the resort.

2. Read each section carefully and complete with your personal information: Pay attention to details and be sure to provide accurate and complete information. Include:

- Personal Information: Full name, address, phone number, email address.

- Education: Education level, degrees obtained, educational institutions.

- Work Experience: Work history, including company names, positions held, start and end dates, and a brief description of your responsibilities.

- Skills: Skills relevant to the position, such as languages, software management, communication skills, etc.

- References: Names and contact information of people who can provide references about your work performance.

3. Check spelling and grammar before submitting the application: Use a spell checker or ask someone to review your application to make sure there are no errors. A well-written application demonstrates professionalism and attention to detail.

4.-Elaborating the Menu of a Restaurant with Foods from Different Parts of the World

- When designing the menu of an international restaurant, it is important to consider the diversity of flavors and culinary cultures that exist in the world. Here are some ideas to include representative dishes from different regions:

- Italian Food:

- Pasta: Lasagna, spaghetti carbonara, fettuccine Alfredo.

- Pizza: Margarita, pepperoni, four cheeses.

- Risotto: Funghi, frutti di mare.

- Mexican Food:

- Tacos: Al pastor, carnitas, fish.

- Enchiladas: Green, red, Swiss.

- Guacamole: With tortilla chips and pico de gallo.

- Asian Food:

- Sushi: Nigiri, maki, sashimi.

- Ramen: Tonkotsu, miso, shoyu.

- Pad Thai: With chicken, shrimp or tofu.

- Spanish Food:

- Paella: Valenciana, seafood.

- Tapas: Patatas bravas, croquettes, Iberian ham.

- Arabic Food:

- Shawarma: Chicken or lamb.

- Hummus: With pita bread and vegetables..

5.-Types of Service in Restaurant

- The choice of service type in a restaurant is crucial for the customer experience. Here are some of the most common types:

- À la carte service: Customers choose the dishes they want from a menu that offers a variety of options. This type of service allows for greater customization of the food and is ideal for restaurants that offer elaborate and high-quality dishes.

- Buffet: Customers serve themselves from a variety of dishes that are presented on tables or counters. This type of service is ideal for restaurants that offer a wide variety of dishes and is popular in hotels and resorts.

- Table service: Waiters take customer orders and serve the dishes directly to the table. This type of service is ideal for restaurants that offer a more formal and personalized atmosphere.

- Bar service: Customers order and consume food and beverages at the bar. This type of service is ideal for bars and restaurants that offer an informal and social atmosphere.

- Fast food service: Customers order and receive their food at the counter to take away or consume on the premises. This type of service is ideal for restaurants that offer fast and economical food.

6.-Example Dialogues between the Diner and the Waiter

- Here are some examples of dialogues that may occur between a diner and a waiter in a restaurant:

- Example 1:

- Diner: "Good afternoon, do you have a table for two?"

- Waiter: "Good afternoon, yes, of course. Please follow me to your table."

- Example 2:

- Diner: "What do you recommend from the menu? I'm looking for something special."

- Waiter: "Our star dish is grilled salmon with passion fruit sauce. It is very popular with our customers."

- Example 3:

- Diner: "Excuse me, could you bring me the bill, please?"

- Waiter: "Of course, I'll bring it to you right away. Would you like anything else?"

- Example 4:

- Diner: "This dish is delicious, but I would like to know if it contains gluten."

- Waiter: "Let me check with the chef to confirm if it contains gluten or if we can prepare a gluten-free version for you."

7.- Ingredients: The Recipe for a Continental Dish and an American Breakfast

- Here are the basic recipes for a continental breakfast and an American breakfast:

- Continental Breakfast:

- 1 croissant

- Butter

- Jam

- Coffee or tea

- Preparation:

1. Cut the croissant in half.

2. Spread butter and jam to taste.

3. Prepare a cup of coffee or tea.

- American Breakfast:

- Ingredients:

- 2 eggs

- 2 strips of bacon

- 2 slices of toast

- Orange juice

- Coffee

- Preparation:

1. Beat the eggs and cook them scrambled in a pan.

2. Fry the bacon until crispy.
3. Toast the slices of bread.
4. Serve the eggs, bacon and toast with a glass of orange juice and a cup of coffee.

¿Qué diferencia el desayuno AMERICANO Y CONTINENTAL?

Desayuno americano

Ideal para:

- Saciar rápido.
- Comer lento y con tiempo.
- Necesidad de energía y carbohidratos.

Variedad:

- Media.

Cantidad:

- Abundante.

Alimentos calientes:

- Si.

Desayuno continental

Ideal para:

- Comer rápido y ligero.
- Bajo en carbohidratos.

Variedad:

- Baja.

Cantidad:

- Poca.

Alimentos calientes:

- No.

UNCOMO

8.-A Snack Bar Menu

- Here is a more detailed example of a menu for a snack bar in a resort:

- Sandwiches:

- Ham and cheese: White or whole wheat bread, ham, cheese, lettuce, tomato and mayonnaise.

- Chicken: Molded bread, shredded chicken, avocado, red onion and yogurt sauce.

- Vegetarian: Pita bread, hummus, falafel, cucumber, tomato and lettuce.

- Burgers:

- Classic: Beef, hamburger bread, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles and sauce.

- With cheese: Beef, cheddar cheese, hamburger bread, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles and sauce.

- Special: Beef, bacon, cheese, fried egg, hamburger bread, lettuce, tomato, onion, pickles and sauce.

- French Fries:

- Classic: French fries with salt.

- With cheese: French fries with melted cheddar cheese.

- With chili: French fries with chili with meat and cheese.

- Salads:

- Caesar: Romaine lettuce, croutons, parmesan cheese and Caesar dressing.

- Mixed: Lettuce, tomato, cucumber, carrot, onion and dressing to taste.

- Fruit: Seasonal fruits with yogurt and granola.

- Drinks:

- Soft drinks: Coca-cola, sprite, fanta, etc.

- Juices: Orange, apple, pineapple, etc.
- Smoothies: Fruit, chocolate, vanilla, etc.

9.-List of Foods and Drinks

- Here is a more extensive list of foods and drinks that you can include in your manual:

- Foods:

- Fruits: Apple, banana, orange, strawberry, grape, mango, pineapple, watermelon, melon, kiwi, etc.

- Vegetables: Lettuce, tomato, carrot, cucumber, onion, pepper, broccoli, cauliflower, spinach, etc.

- Meats: Beef, chicken, pork, fish, lamb, turkey, etc.

- Dairy: Milk, cheese, yogurt, ice cream, butter, cream, etc.

- Cereals: Rice, pasta, bread, oats, corn, wheat, etc.

- Legumes: Beans, lentils, chickpeas, peas, etc.

- Nuts: Almonds, walnuts, hazelnuts, peanuts, etc.

- Drinks:

- Soft drinks: Coca-cola, sprite, fanta, pepsi, etc.

- Juices: Orange, apple, pineapple, mango, etc.

- Hot Drinks: Coffee, tea, chocolate, etc.

- Alcoholic Beverages: Beer, wine, liquors, cocktails, etc..

FOOD MANUFACTURING

2157668144

10.-Hotel Marketing Strategies

- To promote a resort effectively, it is essential to implement a comprehensive marketing strategy that encompasses different channels and techniques. Here are some key strategies:

- Digital Marketing:

- Social Networks: Use platforms like Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and TikTok to share attractive content about the resort, such as photos, videos, promotions and events.

- Email: Send periodic newsletters to your customer database with special offers, news and relevant content.

- Online Advertising: Invest in pay-per-click (PPC) advertising on search engines like Google and on social networks to reach a wider audience.

- Content Marketing:

- Blog: Create a blog on the resort's website with interesting articles about tourist destinations, activities at the resort, travel tips and gastronomy.

- Videos: Produce high-quality videos that show the facilities, services and experiences offered by the resort.

- Infographics: Create visually attractive infographics that summarize relevant information about the resort and its surroundings.

- Loyalty Programs:

- Offer rewards to frequent customers: Discounts, free nights, room upgrades, access to exclusive areas, etc.

- Create a points system: Customers accumulate points for each purchase and can redeem them for benefits.

- Collaborations:

- Establish alliances with other tourist companies: Travel agencies, airlines, car rental companies, etc.